Wine description

The Reserva Sauvignon Blanc was grown on Viu Manent's San Carlos vineyard near Cunaco in the Colchagua Valley. A longer, more gradual growing season than normal has resulted in particularly intense and aromatic wines with lively natural acidity.

Tasting note

This wine is a clean, bright, pale, almost transparent yellow color with green highlights. Its nose features standout citrus and exotic fruit aromas of lime, chili pepper and melon accompanied by more subtle mineral notes. The palate is refreshing and fruity, with moderate volume, a rich acidity, and good balance leading to a long mineral finish.
